

School Mass

On Friday, January 7, students from Holy Cross School celebrated their first School Mass of 2022. After just completing a week of in-person classes since enjoying their break for Christmas, students gathered together to be nourished by the Word of God and the Sacrament of Eucharist.

Every month, students, families, and faculty participate in sacred liturgy together. Grades take turns bringing the liturgy to life by serving at the altar, proclaiming the scripture readings and leading the Prayer of the Faithful. Often there is music, sometimes costumes, and tangible signs that connect students to the Mass.

Fr. Foley reminded students of the love God has for them. He shared

God's desire is for us to be made well, and when our prayer is that God's will be done, transformative changes and healing can take place in our lives. God is good.

Thank you to our administration, faculty, staff, and clergy for creating these holy experiences for our students. Thank you students for all of the goodness and light that you bring to our community!

Mark your calendars for Catholic Schools Week (CSW '22)! Catholic Schools Week, an annual celebration of Catholic education in the United States, will be held from January 30 - February 5, 2022.

Readings & Reflection

SUNDAY, JANUARY 16, 2022

Isaiah 62:1-5
Psalm 96:1-2, 2-3, 7-8, 9-10
1 Corinthians 12:4-11
John 2:1-11

Having recently completed our Christmas celebrations recalling the Lord God taking on flesh and making his “dwelling” among us, we are reminded again this Sunday of the implications of this relationship and the magnitude of the Incarnation.

What happens to our flesh as a result of God assuming flesh? No longer shall people look at you and see you as beyond hope, abandoned, “forsaken” or “desolate” (cf. Isaiah 62:4). Rather the Lord now somehow delights and rejoices in us, and he actually espouses himself to us like a bridegroom to a bride, like lover to beloved. Through his intimate dwelling in us, he produces his fruit that otherwise could never have grown.

What does this look like? Through this unfathomable love he bestows his Spirit upon us, a gift that was solidified for us in Baptism. St. Paul relates to us today that now when we give God permission, he transforms us and produces all his “gifts” in us for each of our individual benefit (1 Cor 12:6-7). How beautiful for the world that God gives generously to all, but he also gives in unique ways to each of us, too.

As a result though, now we must live our lives as a response to this relationship. God gives gifts to individual members for the sake of his whole body. We must glorify God through our discipleship, which has both individual and communal dimensions. How do we live so as to glorify God and sanctify the world? Ah! Our Gospel today: At Cana, the mother of Jesus appears as the embodiment, in a single person, of the faithful, obedient people of God...she is the model of what our discipleship looks like.

We must be companions in the work of Jesus who allow him to always take the lead. Sometimes we are given a task to do that we don't even know the first place to begin. Being a disciple of Jesus is not one of those tasks! Mary instructs us with the first and most important guideline: "Do whatever [Jesus] tells you." Take the words of Jesus seriously and you won't be led astray, he will produce his fruit in you.

God bless,
Fr. Brendan Foley
